

Purple Sisterhood

You bring more purple to my life,
A richer, royal hue.
But I wonder at myself
That I should copy you.

My smarter, younger sister
Who called me old and wise.
It's the other way around
When seen through purple eyes.

You call yourself retired.
You've a new life, new home.
You're proof they're many things to learn
When in the purple zone.

And so, who leads? Who follows?
Who mixes red and blue?
Who turns the color wheel of life
To make the purple view?

You!
